THE VOICE

I
He heard the voice in Springtime,
He heard the voice in Fall,
Muffled by the shadow,
Yet clear-toned over all.
II
The rustle of a rose leaf,
The star-wraith of a cloud,
The spirit of the Silence,
The echo of the crowd.
III
The voice no storm could stifle,
Sure-scent, to kill or save;
It led him to life's gospel,
It led him to life's grave!
—Frank L. Stanton.

A FREE COUNTRY

PRESIDENT WILSON'S breadth of view is shown in his order to reinstate the assistant postmaster at Winnetka, Ill., after he had been removed for a number of causes, one of them being criticism of the president's coming marriage.

As Secretary Tumulty puts it this is a "free country." A man has a right to his private opinions. His views may be wrong but that is his misfortune and furnishes no reason for abridging the constitutional right of free speech.

The president's action is in line with good American traditions. This is a republic, not an autocracy.

A 67 PER CENT GAIN

THERE is prosperity news in the report from New York that bank clearances at principal cities last week aggregated $4,500,000, 67 per cent more than a year ago. This is an astonishing gain. The ratio of increase was 108 per cent at New York, 39 per cent at Boston, 36 per cent at Philadelphia, 25 per cent at Chicago, 47 per cent at St. Louis and 57 per cent at New Orleans. Of course the Stock Exchange, which was closed a year ago, had much to do with swelling the total in New York. But outside of New York, where financial operations were more nearly on a normal scale, the gains were also impressively large and proved conclusively a widespread business expansion. The returns for the month of October were equally significant; the total being $20,000,000,000 against $11,700,000,000 a year ago. Here was an increase of over 70 per cent at all cities; New York showing a gain of 127 per cent and all other cities a growth of 20 per cent.

THE SUBMARINE'S WORST ENEMY

NEW from Europe indicates the airship has proven a deadly foe of the submarine and the facts are interesting in connection with the preparedness plans in this country.

Interesting information was received by Mr. Henry Woodhouse, a governor of the Aero Club of America, regarding the methods adopted by the English with their aeroplanes in destroying the German undersea boats. The aeroplanes go out to sea in pairs, followed by several 40-knot destroyers. Like hunting dogs, they scout far and near in search of their prey. On discovering a submarine they drop a smoke bomb as a signal for the destroyers to approach while they circle about keeping their quarry in sight. From the elevated position of the plane it is possible to see to a depth of a hundred feet in the water, so the chances of escape are small. The destroyers on coming up either lower steel nets to catch the submarine or follow it till it rises, when they blow it to pieces.

ANOTHER CARUSO FOUND

NO one can tell what the day has in store for him. The truth of this threadbare platitude is again revealed when by mere chance a truck-driver is discovered possessed of a great voice.

A poor Rumanian a few days ago while driving a furniture van in New York was suddenly attracted by a sweet voice in an upper story. He stopped and listened. Then crooning one of his native songs, he became absorbed in thought. Something whispered to him to try his luck again in this Land of Opportunity. Quickly jumping from his truck, he rang the bell. The servant appearing, he stammered out, "me can sing, too. Let me sing." The maid slammed the door in his face, but he persisted.

The house happened to be the home of The Aborn School for Opera Classes. One of the teachers hearing the commotion below, in the spirit of derision, told the maid to let the man come up. She took him to her studio, and there the truck driver, in overalls, sang. As the great voice rolled out the sweet melody of "Donia," a Rumanian love song, the people in the entire house assembled. First they marveled, then their surprise changed to ecstasy.

Another Caruso had been found. He was told to return to sing to Mr. Aborn. The result was a five-year contract in munificence beyond his wildest dreams. He is first to be trained, as he lacks technique, but another year should find him in grand opera.

That the whole world does not consist of Carusos, or people of supreme talent, is patent. Still, in the general scheme of life, it would appear that everyone should have something within worth while, or the plan is imperfect.

Lucky the man who, like this poor fellow, discovers for what he is fit, before it is too late.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

CURRENT THINKING

HOW TO BUY BOOKS FOR CHILDREN

In the December issue of the Woman's Home Companion Walter Prichard Eaton writes:

"To say that boys do not demand adventure stories, and that they shouldn't have this demand supplied would be ridiculous."

"Any good teacher or wise parent knows of course, that mere prohibition is an ineffective and silly weapon. Not 'Don't' but 'Do,' not prohibition but suggestion is the method to apply. Give the young boy books, give him plenty of books, let him read and browse and have his fill of adventure—but, see that those books are the right sort. Find out what they are like yourself before you put them into your son's hands. They may be dynamite, as Franklin Matthews says, to blow your boy's brains out. Don't sacrifice his brains, his imagination, all his chance of future literary taste, sense of style, appreciation of good writing, for the sake of saving fifty cents."

Chautauqua, originally applied to Lake Chautauqua, is a corruption of the word "Chaudaukwa," meaning the "place where the child was carried away," a description of a tragedy among a tribe of Seneca Indians, when a baby was lost during a storm on that body of water.

HOW FOLWELL BEAT YALE

Bob Folwell, the former Pennsylvania star and now coach of Washington football, showed real football brains in training his team to beat Yale this year. Folwell's team of last year was shot to pieces by graduation. He lost Spiegel and Fleming from his back field and his material this year was not only green but light. He knew he could not develop a line smashing game with the material at hand, so he trained his backs in the fine art of forward passing, but not such passing as has been seen heretofore on eastern grids. His backs were taught to throw the ball low, at no times does it rise above the head of the thrower. The passes were not long ones either, never more than ten or fifteen yards, but they served to beat Yale. Folwell also developed a chain of a run from kick formation, which completely bewildered the Yale men.

The W. & J. eleven displayed quite the "newest" style of football that has been seen in the east this year.

BAPTISM FOLLOWS SERMON AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

MANY ATTEND MEETING LAST NIGHT TO HEAR DR. CARNS PREACH.

(By Rev. E. R. Cleveland.)

The meeting at the Baptist church tonight will be at 7 o'clock in order to allow the congregation to attend the Holston meeting at the high school. A good audience was out last night to hear Dr. Carns and witness the ordinance of baptism. The time is rapidly passing and many suddenly realize that they have missed the opportunity to hear this man of international reputation speak. He has been called across the sea to aid Rev. E. B. Nyer of London in evangelistic campaigns on different occasions and has now engagements for such work in England as soon as the present war is ended and conditions rendered favorable for such work. He brings a sweet gospel message and all should avail themselves of the opportunity to hear this noted man.

SECRETARY OF WALLA WALLA SHOW SAYS IT WAS GIVEN ON NERVE ATTENDANCE AND RECEIPTS OF 1915 SHOW FAR BELOW THOSE OF YEAR AGO.

WALLA WALLA, Nov. 16.—R. H. (Bob) Johnson, secretary of the Fair Association for six years and generally given credit for the success of the Frontier days part of the program, yesterday was re-elected to that office by the board of directors which just previously had been re-elected.

The stockholders of the fair association held their annual meeting and the principal part of their work, aside from the election of officers, was the adoption of a resolution to bond the fair association for any sum up to $50,000, this money to be used to pay off notes and bills outstanding, which amount to $40,751.88. This bond issue it was stated at yesterday's meeting, will put the Association on a sound financial footing.

Secretary Johnson's report gave the attendance for the six days three of the fair and three of the Frontier Days, at 24,292 in 1915, and the year before, 31,492. The receipts from admissions in 1915 were $18,846.89 and the year before, $23,362.92. The expenses for the 1915 Frontier Days part of the show were considerably less than 1914, the figures for 1915 being $13,531.63, and for 1914, $15,185.42.

The complete list of officers elected by the stockholders yesterday follows:

President, W. A. Ritz; vice president, Eugene Thomas; treasurer, John Smith.
Directors, M. Toner, E. V. Pence, J. T. Crawford, F. Singleton, Eugene Thomas, John Flathers, W. G. Corndiner, C. L. Whitney, Lester Robinson, E. C. Burlingame, E. H. Ribler, James Dacres, H. A. Gardner, W. P. Jones, D. T. Cornwell, J. P. Kent.

President Ritz is chairman of the board and the county commissioners are ex-officio members.

Secretary Johnson's formal statement showed the actual money handled, but his remarks injected as he went along, gave the human side of the show.

He declared that the 1915 show was put on much cheaper than the one year before, and that if the attendance had held up the association would have cleared money. The Indians cost less, the prizes were less, the expenses of the employees less, and the cost of the Frontier Days far less, as the pay of performers was but $20 this year against $1800 last year. The only paid performer on the grounds this year, he said, was the Indian who gave the drunken ride.

"We gave the show on nerve," said Mr. Johnson. "We had a $7000 deficit to start with and had nothing to pay with as we went along until the fair opened."

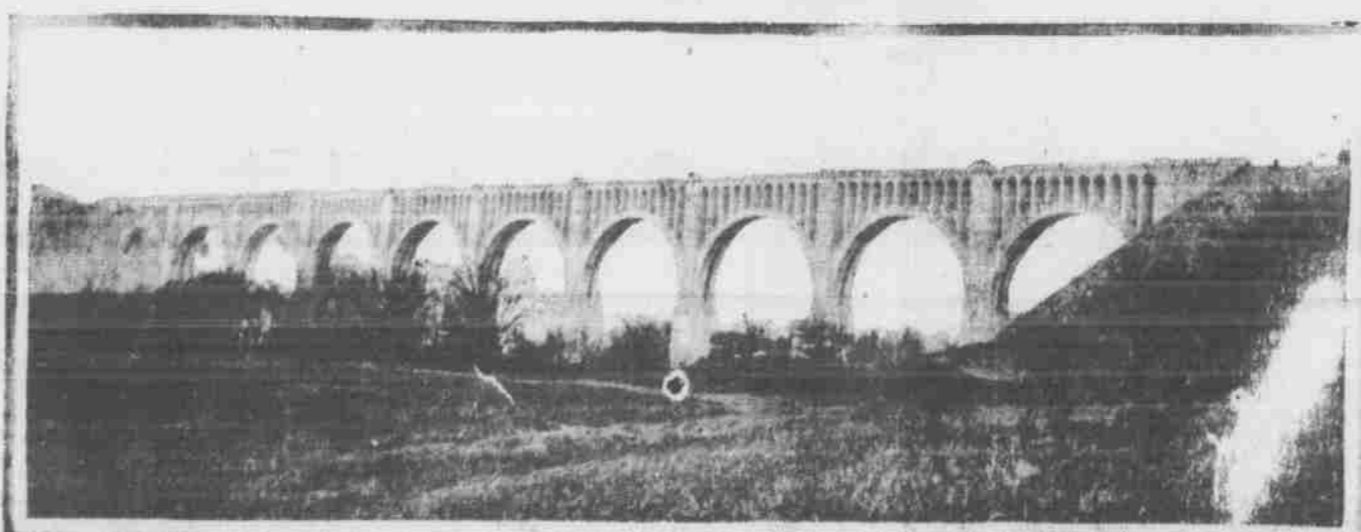

MANY DIE FOR LACK OF DRUG TO FIGHT DISEASE

GERMAN REMEDY CANNOT BE OBTAINED—STATE DEPARTMENT PLANS ACTION.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Scores of Americans are dying, thousands are suffering untold agony while millions of others are racked with anxiety because it is almost impossible to obtain a German remedy, salvarsan, to battle virulent blood diseases. This became known when it was learned the state department had begun negotiations in an effort to obtain the allies' permission for Germany to ship some of the remarkable discovery. Congressman Metz of New York, importer of the cure, as well as an importer of various German dyestuffs, has been working for months to secure a supply, but the British blockade cut off the remedy which comes only from Germany. Since January 2, not a single gram was received excepting a small shipment which the British permitted to pass six weeks ago. This was quickly used.

We all admire a man who goes good things, unless we happen to be one of the good things.

By means of it 3.6 miles have been

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

A meeting of the students was called this morning to make a few announcements. After these were made, Yell Leader Carney led the students in a long and rousing yell practice.

The old come-back spirit was manifested by the way the students rallied to the support of the team that was beaten by Baker last Friday and they all promised to support the boys in their battle next Friday against the Walla Walla giants. A rousing rally will be held Thursday by the freshmen for the game, in which they are determined to make it the best ever held by the school.

The students of the high school will receive their first vacation of the semester when they will be let out of school during Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. This is teachers' institute week and it will be held in the high school, thus giving the students a relief from their daily work.
